THEME

Since the beginning of man's urge to travel, traffic signs have existed. They were born in prehistoric times when the caveman first roamed the jungle near his crude abode and threw together a pile of stones for a trail marker. As civilization progressed, traffic signs became more and more necessary. Since today we are living in an age of speed and automotive progress, traffic signs are an essential part of our everyday life. When we drive forth on our daily excursions, we constantly see words of warning and wisdom along the smooth broad highways.

As these signs protect, guide, and help the traveler over the wide American highways, so, too, they will show the way for the observant traveler on the Road of Life.

How very many of our fondest memories are summarized in that sign which says "School Zone, Speed Limit 20 Miles Per Hour!" As we leave behind the pleasant school days to begin our great journey, let us apply the advice of the lowly traffic signs to the dangers along our way; and, as we leaf through pages of this book may we be guided by their friendly help and counsel.

DEDICATION

In appreciation of his many contributions to school and community, we, the students of Jefferson High School, dedicate this, the twentieth edition of J-HI-LIFE to Mr. Robert L. Shoaf. During the twenty-five years that he has been at Jefferson High, Mr. Shoaf has watched our school grow larger and larger. He sometimes recalls the days when he first taught chemistry and physics in Jefferson. His laboratory was ill-stocked and inadequate. Today when one walks into the chemistry and physics laboratories, he finds well-lighted, convenient work tables; cupboards filled with chemicals; and modern equipment lining the wall. Of these laboratories Mr. Shoaf can justly be proud.

Mr. Shoaf has served as coach for all sports. He now coaches the track team and is advisor for the school Athletic Association.

In this, his silver anniversary year at Jefferson, we wish to thank Mr. Shoaf for his many contributions to our school.

FIRST ROW—Betty Tamas, Irene Tamas, Donna Morgan, Marilyn Harvey, Jack Benson, Glenna Rogers, Marilyn Slabaugh, Ella Mae Hedric, Carol Jean Anderson. SECOND ROW — Mrs. Braden, Joyce Ashley, Dorothy Dahn, Betty Stevens, Ray Kozak, Lawrence Woodworth, Helen Rogers, Shirley Walker, Joan Milner, Lois Jean Stainfield. THIRD ROW — Marlene Duke, Carol Hist, Shirley Schmaltz, Charlotte Abbott, Nancy Weatherston, Paul Diemer, Richard Dittell, Sophia Brenkus, Inez Crow. FOURTH ROW—Norman Supplee, Culver Rogers, Roger Musgrave, Barbara Jacobs, Rose March, Ethel Means, Ruth Meade, Merlon Gochneaur, Herbert Locy. FIFTH ROW—Donald Baginski, Richard Waters, Robert Barton, Neil Herman, Steve Durkovic, Gerald Berrier, Jack Mitcham, Arlie Keel, Robert Harvey.

The Junior Class has an enrollment of forty-six students. The class has sponsored many activities during this school term. They sold red and white mechanical pencils; sponsored the Missouri Fox Hunters, and Mrs. Bidlack's "Tom Thumb's Wedding," and "The Skeleton Walks," a mystery comedy under the direction of Miss Britt was chosen as the class play. The students are active in athletics, band, chorus and the various clubs in school.

The word sophomore means "wise fool." The years of learning have made them wise, but with two more years to go there is still a lot to learn.

This class has contributed much to the activities of the school.

They boast three reserve and two varsity cheerleaders, three majorettes, and eight basketball players.

Other extra-curricular activities in which members of the class participated are: J-Hi-Life, Band, Chcrus, G. I. A., Y-Teens, Football, Track and Scholarship Tests.

OFFICERS

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

FIRST ROW—Jack Haines, Gladys McClintock, Jennie Marzec, Marilyn Harvey, Roy Ritter.

Jefferson High School is indeed proud of its ten National Honor Society members.

This coveted honor is awarded to outstanding students in the Junior and Senior Classes. To be eligible for admittance into the society a student must be active in leadership, scholarship, service, and character.

Three Seniors, Jack Haines, Roy Ritter and Barbara Blough were elected to the society during their Junior year. Jack served as County President during 1949.

On February 7 at Rock Creek High School four Seniors and three Juniors were initiated into the society. They were Shirley Ensman, Gladys McClintock, Jennie Marzec, Richard Moisio, Carol Jean Anderson, Jo Ann Milner and Marilyn Harvey. These students have proved themselves worthy of this honor.

The Girls' Intramural Association is made up of athletic-minded girls who wish a chance to earn an athletic award. Organized tournaments held during the noon hour and participation in outside sports activities give the girls opportunities to earn merits that are necessary for an award. Events planned by the club included skating parties, gym nights and basketball and volleyball tournaments. At Christmas time the G. I. A. sponsored the "Snowball" dance.

The Jefferson High School Band has completed a very successful season. In the fall the organization added a colorful atmosphere to the football games with some very outstanding half-time shows. In addition to several assemblies and programs, the band presented a spring concert together with the chorus. A Spring Festival of Bands in Willoughby received the support of the Jefferson musicians. The band also participated in the district audition at Kent in March where they received a superior rating, thus making them eligible for participation in the state auditions at Springfield in April.

The High School Chorus of 49-50 consisted of 62 members. The group was ably directed by Mrs. William Spencer. During the year the group performed several times in public. They participated in assemblies, Baccalaureate, Christmas Vespers, and presented a spring concert in conjunction with the Band. They also participated in the district auditions at Kent in March and received a superior rating. With this rating the chorus was able to proceed to the state auditions at Springfield.

"JUNIOR MISS"

Presented by the Senior Class

Thursday, November 10, 1949

"SKY FODDER"

During January, the three members of the one act play cast, the two stage managers and our director were hard at work on "Sky Fodder," the play which was entered on January 30 in district competition. Jefferson competed with two other schools, Williamsfield and Dorset, and placed second.

This play was a sample of drama, a portrayal of three air-borne victims trapped in a Louisiana jungle. The characters were: Rogers, the pilot of a private plane, played by Dick Moisio; Neal, a businessman whom the jungle has affected mentally, portrayed by Bob Harvey; Drew, another businessman, the most composed of the party, known around school as Jack Haines. The stage managers, prompters, carpenters and general handy men were Arlie Keel and Bob Dennis.

Mrs. Bunting, the director, had the biggest headache of all. One of her biggest worries was to make the stage look convincingly like a tropical jungle.

Even though building a tree that would stand was quite a problem, it furnished the cast with a good many laughs while it was being built.

IT'S A LONG STORY

19 - SENIOR CLASS HISTORY - 50

It has been twelve years since that exciting September day in 1938 when we so eagerly set out in search of an education. They have been twelve years filled with many things. We have had disappointments but our triumphs have been many.

Before we leave, we should like to reminisce over a few of the major events of our school days.

Of this year's graduating class, 17 have attended Jefferson School for the entire twelve years. They are Robert Dennis Shirley Ensman, Helen Gollon, Jack Haines, Paul Jones, Emma Larson, Oscar Larson, Jennie Marzec, Clyde Means, Doris Means, Richard Moisio, Arnold Newman, Joan Race, Roy Ritter, Vivian Sheats, Richard Shore and Robert Weir.

The first day of school we will never forget. Somewhat frightened, we walked into our classroom, but we were greeted by smiling teachers who quickly helped us forget our fears.

During our school days, several new students joined our class. They are Esther Buckhardt, Louise Clinton, Donald Cook, Marian Flack, Donald Kozak, Margaret Low, Richard Mead, Donald Millard, John Rashi, Jane Robinson, Charles Stevens, Harry McConnell, Margaret Nemeth, Helen Ondrejovich, Donald Walker and Norma White.

One of the biggest steps in our school life was the jump from the sixth grade to the seventh. The bells for the change of classes always seemed to mix us up but with the help of other students and the art of poking our heads into the wrong room, we soon managed to get to classes.

When we became freshmen nine students from Lenox entered high school. They were: Barbara Blough, Norma Eldred, Rose Mary Kuncz, Donald Locy, Charlotte McClintock, Betty Oliver, Thomas Smith and Shirley Tisch. We were the victims of the last freshman initiation in Jefferson High School. The events of our freshman year were ended by a very successful freshman dance.

In our junior year we presented the junior class play, "The Calamity Kids." As juniors we acquired many responsibilities, such as raising money for the Junior and Senior Prom, which was held at the Ashtabula Hotel. With Richard Mead as our president, we had a very successful year.

Many of the boys in our class have participated in various sports, while most of the girls have been active in such organizations as the Y - Teens and G. I. A. Several of our class members have been active in scholastic activities throughout our high school days.

As seniors, we elected Roy Ritter as our class president. Four new members were elected into the National Honor Society in their senior year. They were: Gladys McClintock, Shirley Ensman, Richard Moisio, and Jennie Marzec. Barbara Blough, Jack Haines and Roy Ritter had been taken in when they were juniors.

Yes, these years have all passed too quickly but not too quietly. They have been eventful years filled with work and play, not only for us but for those who have been helping us along our journey. We now extend to them our deepest appreciation for the many years that they were so patient and helpful to us. We hope that the records we leave behind justify the time they spent so willingly helping us.

CLASS SONG OF 1950

Tune: It's Breaking My Heart

It's breaking our hearts to be leaving,
Our school days at Jeff are all through,
It isn't too easy believing
The time's come to start life anew.
It's breaking our hearts to remember
The good times we must leave behind,
The memory of teachers and classmates
Will always remain in our mind.

Hardships ahead
We'll weather through
When we look back
And think dear of you.

Jeff Hi we pledge
We will always be grateful.
Farewell, Alma Mater, Farewell.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

To whom it may concern—

We, the senior class of one thousand nine hundred fifty, as we prepare to depart into the cruel, cruel world, do hereby ordain and establish this our last will and testament:

Norma White leaves her cute southern drawl to Shirley Walker.

To Culver Rogers goes a few of John Rashi's extra pounds. Don't lose them too quickly, Culver.

Being of sound mind and in the possession of a muscular body, Clyde Means wills a few muscles to Arlie Keel and Jack Benson.

To Charlotte Abbott, Shirley Tisch leaves her book "How To Get Your Man." Hope it works as well for you as it did for Shirley.

Paul Jones donates his lush profile to Jack Mitcham and Richard Dibell.

Donald Locy wills his talent of telling tall tales to Gerald Berrier. Live up to his standards, Gerry, and you may eventually gain membership in the TTTA (Tall Tale Tellers Association).

Joan Race leaves a pack of delicious nutritious Wrigley's Doublemint Chewing Gum to Betty Tamas.

To Bob Barton goes Robert Weir's comfortable English seat. It has a lovely southern exposure.

Rose Marie March inherits Gladys McClintock's shorthand book, seat, and knowledge.

Jacque Haines leaves without Carol Jean. (Darn it!)

Dick Mead wills to Neil Herman his W. W. W. (Way with Women) technique.

To Richard Waters goes Don Cook's little address book. Or don't you need it, Woody?

Janie Robinson wills her petite ways and manners to Ella Mae Hedrick.

To Irene Tamas, Margaret Low donates a few inches.

Richard Moisio leaves his chorus solos to Donald Baginski with the stipulation that there be no sour notes. Sing pretty, Don.

To Marilyn Slabaugh, Esther Buckhardt wills her art of breaking away to read, and read, and read.

Roy Ritter wills to Punk Gochneur his priceless knowledge on how to avoid women and like it.

To Inez Crow, I, Vivian Sheats, will my spelling ability.

Donald Walker wills to chattering Lawrence Woodworth his slow and easy-going talk.

Helen Ondrejovich will to Dorothy Dahn her baton tricks. Along with your acrobatics, this will make quite a combination.

To Joyce Ashley, Tom Smith wills his cooking secrets. Maybe you'll be head chef in the popcorn stand next year.

Oscar Larson's quiet bashful way with the girls goes to Raymond Kozak.

Donald Millard leaves his parking place in front of the school to Robert Harvey. Watch out for the mud holes, Bob.

Emma Larson wills to Ruth Meade and Ethel Means her cool collective way of taking things easy.

To Lois Jean Stainfield, Charlotte McClintock leaves her latest novel, "To Have and To Hold Him."

Rose Mary Kuncz leaves her black, glossy hair to blonde Carol Hist.

To Shirley Schmaltz go Harry McConnell's extraneous remarks.

Lucky Jo Ann Milner receives Louise's sneezes. (Louise Clinton, that is.)

Helen Gollon bequeaths her skating ability to Norman Supplee. (Take it easy on the curves, Norm.)

To Nancy Weatherston, Betty Oliver wills that "certain" day in June.

Dick Shore leaves his ability to go steady to Paul Diemer.

To Herbert Locy goes Arnold Newman's professional dignity.

Doris Means bequeaths her sophisticated walk to Donna Morgan and Dorothy Brown.

Margaret Nemeth's ability to be heard is inherited by Glenna Rogers and Sophia Brenkus.

Jennie Marzec's ability to make a go of it with a certain crank, namely, the mimeograph, is sadly bequeathed to Helen Rogers and Betty Stevens.

Barbara Blough's speaking and lecturing ability is willed to Marlene Duke.

Marilyn Harvey is bequeathed Shirley Ensmann's highly efficient and brisk manner.

We, the class of '50, bequeath our vindicated title "Seniors" to the entire Junior Class.

All the underclasses receive our best wishes for the future.

In witness thereof, we, the class of one thousand nine hundred fifty, have hereby signed, sealed, published, and declared our last will and testament on this 24th day of May in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred fifty.

THE CLASS OF '50 PROPHEESIES

Scene: Room 14, Jefferson High School

Date: School year of 1964-5

Two teachers from the Class of '50 are looking through an old annual and discussing their former classmates. The teachers are Jennie Marzec, the commercial instructor at Jeff High, and Roy Ritter who has taken Mr. Shoaf's place in the field of science and coaching. Mr. Shoaf has been superintendent since Mr. Watson left Jeff to star in Don Locy's "Minstrels of Broadway."

"It looks as though Jack Haines may get to the White House yet. I wonder how Carol will like being the first lady?"

"Yes, Jack has become a very popular candidate. He owes many of his votes to his faithful campaign manager, Paul Jones, and his secretary, Marion Flack."

"Did you know that Barbara Blough has just been appointed President of Kent College?"

"Yes, I heard about it. And Vivian Sheatz is now bacteriologist at the Cleveland Clinic. Dr. Mead has also accepted a position on the staff there. His methods in surgery have brought him fame."

"Speaking of doctors and clinics, I hear that Don Millard, the famous stunt driver, has been released from the hospital. They say he never could have lived if it hadn't been for Dick Shore's new cast for broken necks."

"Dick has contributed many wonderful inventions to mankind. I wonder if Cherie has given him any of his ideas?"

"While we are on the subject of famous people—have you read Esther Buckhardt's latest novel? She is very wealthy. She even has her own private plane in which she travels. And just guess who the pilot is? Harry McConnell, in person. Rosie Kuncz is the stewardess and private secretary for Esther. I'll bet any male guests on board that plane would enjoy getting airsick!"

"This isn't an airplane, but I saw Louise Thomas driving an International truck the other day, and she was wearing one of those special truck drivers' hats, one of the latest creations of Bob Dennis, the great hat designer."

"I hear that Charlotte McClintock is now modeling Bob's hats."

"Yes, those McClintocks are really 'in the groove' these days. Gladys and Johnny now live in Hollywood, you know, and Gladys is going to star in a movie soon to be produced by the Larson Studios, operated by Emma and Oscar."

"Not only is Gladys going to be in it, but so is that great opera star, 'Richardo' Moisio."

"Besides having two members of the Class of '50 in the movies, we also have one in radio—Arnold Newman is the sound effects man over Station DIN. He always did make enough noise!"

"Another talented pair from the class is Helen Gollon and Joan Race, the professional skaters. I caught their show at the Rollo Cade when they were on tour."

"And Helen Ondrejovich is twirling with the Cleveland Browns' Majorettes. I hear she may make head drum major."

"Speaking of the Cleveland Browns, I hear that Clyde Means is really getting along in football. He is now head coach at the University of Georgia, you know. And he found that 'Georgia peach'."

Clyde's sister, Doris, is now Mrs. Fred Hinkle. She lives in Jeff and takes care of her little red-headed son."

"Say, I hear that Betty and Bill's sons are great basketball fans already. Well, like father, like sons, I always say."

"As long as we're on this subject, I hear that Janie Robinson Dixon is teaching her daughter, Dixie, the fundamentals of short-hand at an early age."

"Margaret Samples (the former Margaret Low) is both a career girl and a mother. She is Chief Operator at the telephone exchange."

"Have you been to Piper's new meat market, operated by Francis and Norma? I hear it will provide some stiff competition for Don Kozak, who has taken over Stainfield's meat market and for Herren's Super-Market, now managed by Don Cook."

"No, I have never been there. Have you seen Isaly's store since Chuck Stevens took over the management and had it remodeled?"

"Yes, I have. And where do you suppose the Isaly Company gets most of its milk for its dairy products? From Tom Smith and John Rashi, co-owners of Ashtabula County's largest dairy farm."

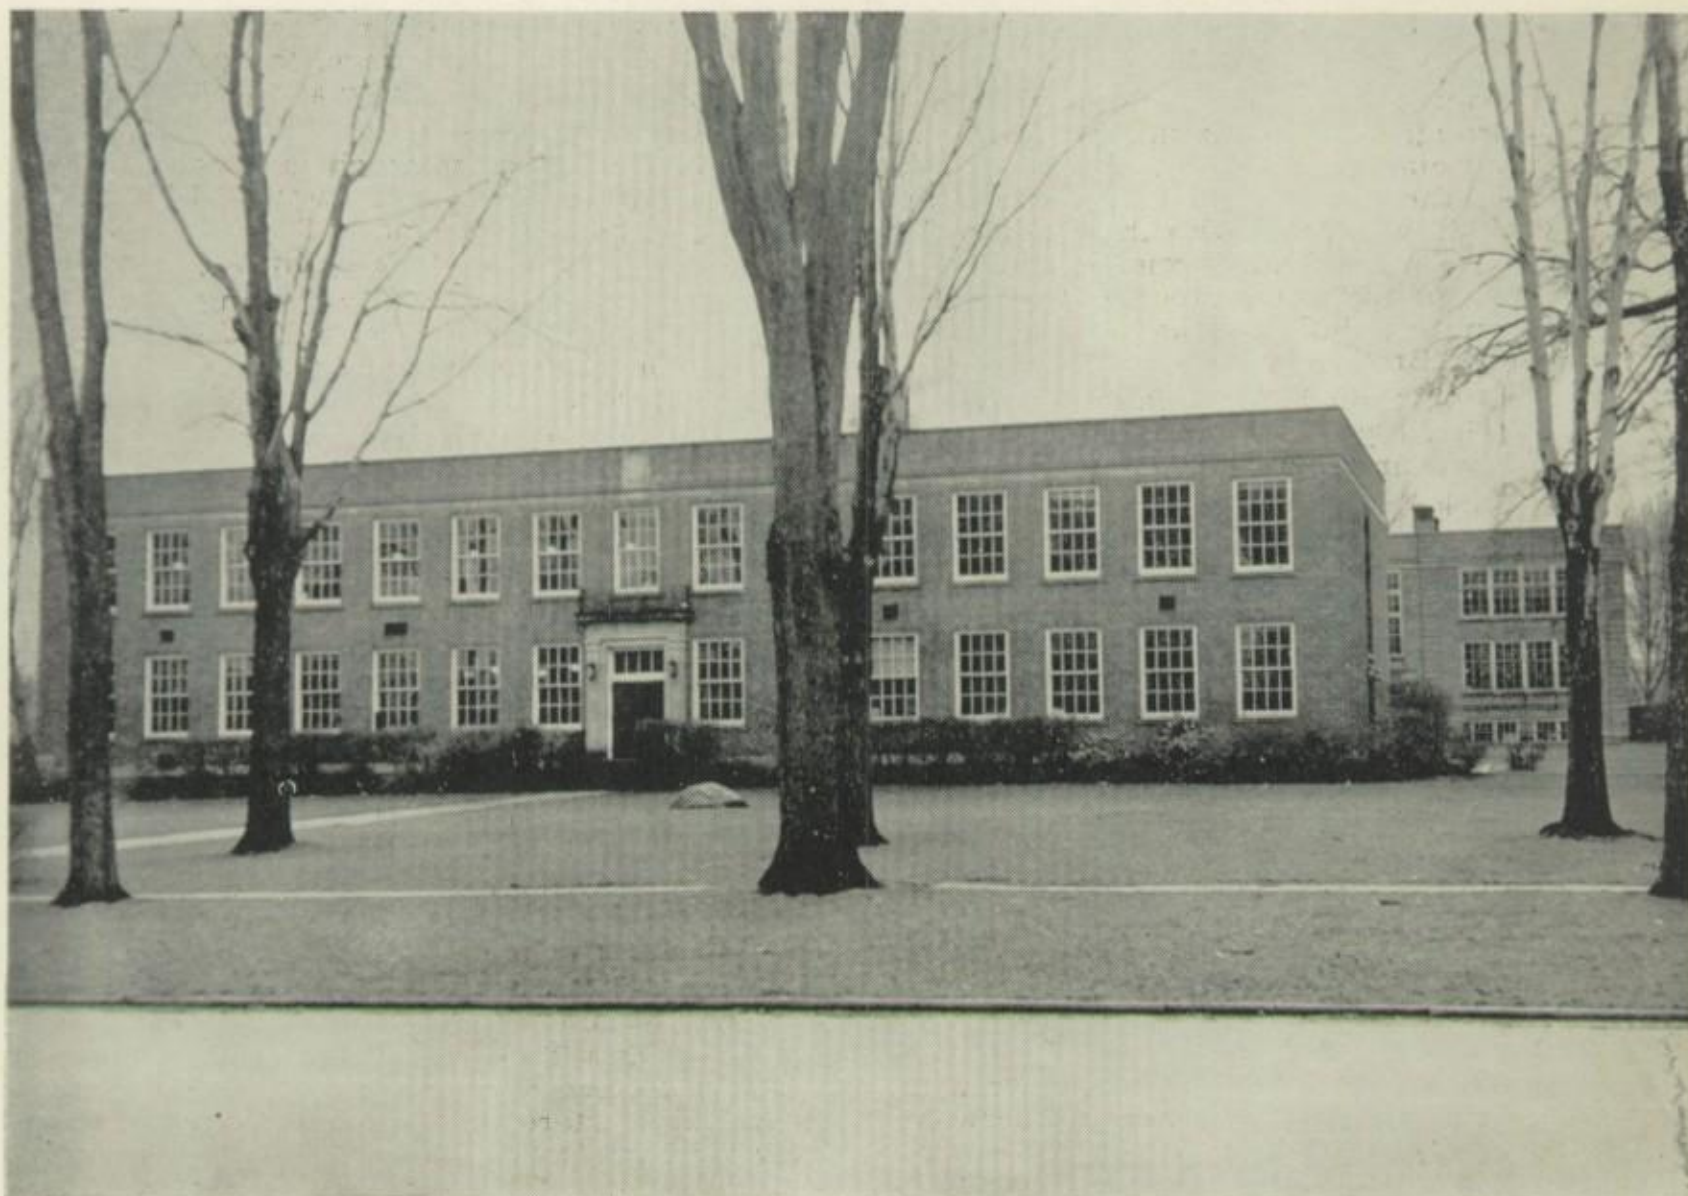

"I read in the Jefferson Gazette, now owned and published by Shirley Ensman, that Norma White and Shirley Tisch have left on another tour of South America. Norma is gathering material for a book and Shirley Tisch and her assistant, Bob Meaney, has agreed to photograph the scenes of our southern neighbors."

"Speaking of photographs, have you seen the latest of Bob Weir? He's now posing for Charles Atlas' ads and he was on the back of the latest comic book put out by the Walker Publishing Company."

"Yes. That is one comic book I like to read—all in poetic form. Margaret Nemeth always was good at writing poetry and knew she'd make a career of it some day."

Yes, the members of the Class of '50 have done well for themselves. But what else was to be expected from such brilliant and ambitious students?"

ALMA MATER

Let's give a rah for Jefferson High School
And let us pledge her anew.
We will cheer her on to victory,
To our dear old high be true.
Let all our troubles be forgotten
And high school spirit rule;
We'll join and give our loyal efforts
For the good of our old school.
It's Jefferson High School, it's Jefferson High,
The pride of everybody here.
Come on you old grads and join us young lads
It's Jefferson High School now we cheer—Rah! Rah!
For now's the time, boys, to make a big noise
No matter what the people say,
For there's none to fear, the gang's all here
So hail to Jefferson High School, Hail!
